

[24]7 PERSONALIZATION

The power to get it right—right consumer, right channel, right message—at scale

[24]7 Personalization uses machine learning and cognitive science to deliver smarter, individually targeted experiences across channels and devices. Cut through competing messages and connect with your audience better to increase online conversions, and grow revenue in real-time.

Design and deliver smarter, better targeted content in real time—down to the millisecond. The results? 400 percent better ad engagement and 75 percent lift in conversion.

Key Business Benefits

Because purchasing is personal, and personal is powerful.

Predictive Targeting and Prospecting:

Better results start with understanding consumer behavior and accurately predicting intent. [24]7 Personalization uses artificial intelligence to pinpoint high value prospects and customers, across devices and channels, including display, social media, video, and website.

Learn. Respond. Improve. In Real-time:

Using sophisticated machine learning to analyze thousands of clicks per second, [24]7 Personalization learns what combinations of personas and messages are working, and continually applies that learning to fine tune budgets, targets, and bids in real-time.

Deliver Dynamic Creative on Any Channel:

Different people respond to different combinations of copy, color, and other creative details. [24]7 Personalization makes it easy to design and deliver the right message in the right place by learning what engages your audience and applying that to other channels. Now you can deliver one-to-one personalized content at scale.

Bid Data. Big Difference: [24]7 Personalization uses powerful machine learning to accurately predict consumer intent across devices and channels. Knowing how your customers are likely to behave lets you adjust down to the millisecond to meet their needs. Deeper data leads to deeper connections.
